

How to play chords and music theory

To play a chord, you simply press 3 keys with one key in between them.

For example pressing A, D, and G on the keyboard.

This chords name is the same name that the leftmost of the keys you press is.

Whether it's major or minor depends on the scale you are in (it is one of the 3 major and thre relative minor chords that define the scale in the circle of fifths - look at the video below).
